

DATA PROTECTION ACT 1998 - USE OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

As you may be aware, the UK is one of the most highly regulated financial centres in the world. This is to safeguard the interests of consumers and other persons purchasing and being advised about investments, insurance and other financial products and in use of their personal data. Against this backdrop, Intelligent Money Limited is required to make certain regulatory and statutory declarations to you.

If instructed by you, we may collect data about you and your family. We will also be collecting data about you and your family from other persons. We collect the data through applications and filling in of questionnaires about you and your family's circumstances.

We may make checks with credit rating agencies to authenticate and verify your identity and credit status. We also make checks with Institutions with whom you have policies of insurance and investments and with your mortgage provider. These checks are to help us with our obligations at law. The scope and extent of the gathering of information from third parties depends on what type of service you are taking from us.

How is your information used?

Primarily, we use your data and data about you and your family's circumstances to complete transactions on your behalf. We may analyse and assess your data to maintain and develop our relationships with you.

Depending on the instructions we receive from you, we may pass your data to other professional advisers. Usually, this would be referrals to local accountants, solicitors, tax advisers and sometimes to specialist advisers in the financial and insurance industry where we do not feel we have appropriate expertise. We, and any third party specialist advisers to whom we introduce you, will, of course, pass your data to Institutions if you agree to purchase or amend policies and products as part of the sales and advice process.

We will retain your data according to the statutory requirements for regulatory products. If you want details of the statutory retention periods for various product types please contact us and we will obtain the latest legal position on your behalf.

Your data is held in our offices in computer-based and paper-based filing systems.

We may introduce you to Institutions who process your information in countries that are outside the European Economic Area, which do not offer the same level of protection for your personal data.
